ASK LOWER TRAM FARES: Representatives of some 20,000 Montreal university and college students called on Mayor Houde (centre) at City Hall yesterday, asking his support for their campaign to have reduced fares (seven tickets for 25 cents) extended to older students as well as to primary school pupils. Mayor Houde said he would present their case to the newly-created Montreal Transportation Commission. With him here are spokesmen for McGill and Montreal universities, Sir George Williams, Marianopolis, Loyola and Mount St. Louis colleges.

Reduced Carfare?

Commission To Hear Student Fares Petition

Officials of the Student Carfare Commission present over 4000 signatures of students at colleges in Montreal today to Mr. Arthur Duperron, president of the newly formed Montreal Transportation Commission. The signatures are those on the petitions advocating lower car fares for students which were circulated on the various camps for the past two weeks.

As well as the petitions, the Student Commission will also present a formal resolution calling for lower car fares. The resolution states in part:

"Whereas, the university and college students are continuing to protest the high cost of transportation. We, the students, request that the commission grant reduced carfare (7 tickets for 25c) upon presentation of the student card or of any other means of identification that the commission shall determine."

The Student Carfare Commission is composed of delegates from McGill, U. of M., Sir George Williams, Mount St. Louis, Loyola and Marianopolis. It will be the first contact the commission will make with the public.

Jacques Y. Morin, president of the student commission, had a private meeting with President Duperron last week. "Mr. Duperron," said Morin, "understands perfectly our problems. I am convinced he will do his best for us students."

This formal meeting will be the last activity of the Student Commission.

"It is believed that a decision will not be rendered immediately, the Transportation Commission having many problems to solve at the present time, including the probable expropriation of the Tramways Company."

"But results are expected and the Student Commission is optimistic. We do not mind waiting for a while if we get results, but the sooner the better," Morin said.

Savage, chartered accountant, and Mr. McLaughlin, Assistant Manager of Montreal Branch of the Royal Bank of Canada, will describe the opportunities for Commerce Graduates in their respective businesses. Admittance to the Gen-nite and refreshments are to be free.

Discipline Is Students' Job - Alberta

Edmonton, Alta., (CUP) — A committee composed of senior officers of the University of Alberta and of the student body has decided here that responsibility for initiating disciplinary action should lie with the students' council rather than with the University administration.

Discussion of the matter arose from the suspension last year of The Gateway, student newspaper, after publication of an Engineer's Edition.

In preliminary discussions, it was felt by the committee that in respect to all student activities the responsibility for initiating disciplinary action should lie with the students' council and that although the administration had an overriding authority to step in, every opportunity should be given to the students to handle such matters themselves.

Sitting as a sub-committee of the Committee on Student Affairs, the meeting was presided over by the dean of arts and science. Present were the president of the University, the dean of engineering, the provost, the president and the treasurer of the students' union, the president of the disciplinary committee and the editor-in-chief of The Gateway.

Prof. Culliton Discusses Art Of Debating

"How to prepare a logical topic in debating" was the subject of a lecture given by Prof. Culliton to the Arts and Science Debating Society in the Ballroom of the Union yesterday at 1:00 p.m.

Prof. Culliton said that all public speakers can be divided into two classes to a great extent; the emotional and the logical orator. He gave Stephen Leacock as an example of the emotional speaker even though his economics lectures were always logical. He said that the late Franklin D. Roosevelt was one of the few logical public speakers who in spite of that retained his popularity. Winston Churchill is in a class of his own.

He then proceeded to detail the various points necessary in putting forward a good debate.

1. A debator must know the subject about which he is talking. In order to do this he should not confine his readings on the topic. Instead he should read around the subject without allowing himself to be side tracked completely.

2. A debator may borrow some techniques from the law courts. That is he should state exactly what he intends to prove. He should then put forward his evidence.

3. He should then summarize what he set out to prove without being afraid to use repetition.

4. The speaker should not introduce too many points into his argument but instead should attempt to tie his main points into a neat little package.

5. Positive conclusions should be arrived at.

6. Never use the name of an opponent since it just gives him much more free publicity than he deserves. (Continued on Page 4)

Executive Meeting Amends Massey Commission Brief Student Raise To Enlarge Activities

Toronto, Nov. 27.—(Special to The Daily)—The National Federation of Canadian University Students decided here today to revamp their brief to the Massey Royal Commission to pacify University of Montreal students who felt the program advocated by NFCUS would imperil provincial rights.

At a meeting of the national executive, NFCUS declared it would make known to the Commission that it would not support federal aid to higher education if such aid fell outside the framework of the BNA Act.

By declaring this position, NFCUS is expected to get back into the good graces of U. of M. students who caused considerable commotion six weeks ago when they decided not to raise NFCUS fees unless NFCUS cease its federal aid program.

Two weeks later the U. of M. students amended their position by voting the fee raise but at the same time reiterating their opposition to federal aid. The U. of M. students said they feared provincial rights would be abused if the NFCUS federal aid recommendations were accepted by the Government.

But it is expected that any doubts the U. of M. students had will be dispelled by the national executive's declaration of today and that talk of the U. of M. withdrawing from NFCUS is now a thing of the past.

"If one forces himself, he uses too much brain" said Louis Archambault who held an informal talk on art yesterday afternoon in the Architecture Building.

Freshmen Lack Fitness for University Training Today

Hallfax, N.S.—(CUP)—In a radio interview in Halifax, Dr. W. H. Alexander, who has held positions on the faculties of Canadian and American universities for a number of years, expressed the view that the present rush for college education was anything but an improvement.

Dr. Alexander, who is Emeritus professor of Classics in the University of California, and for six years Chairman of the Department of Classics there, is a Canadian by birth and has held professorships at the University of Western Ontario and the University of Alberta.

It is his opinion that college lecture rooms are crowded with students quite unprepared to profit by real university training, and he stated that he would welcome the proposed "vocational colleges" as a means of relieving the universities of those it "would be better without."

While in Halifax to give a lecture to the Royal Society there, Dr. Alexander was interviewed by Dr. H. L. Stewart, and gave some of his views on current college problems in the U.S.A. and Canada.

He stated that considering that a university's task is to promote cultural development present day freshmen lack the fitness of freshmen of the past. He quoted some painful examples of the effort the University of California has had to make to provide teaching which should have been given in the schools before the student matriculated. There was a marked contrast, he said, between the "G.I.s" (known to us as "Veterans") and those now coming from schools.

The G.I.'s had proved eager and diligent in their work. But in the schools of the present an unfortunate atmosphere has developed, unfavorable to genuine learning. The spirit of the time was one of a hunt above all for lucrative jobs, and this was encouraged by those who should know better, making the youth of the present think of education as for no other purpose than to equip the student for making money as soon as possible. (Continued on Page 4)

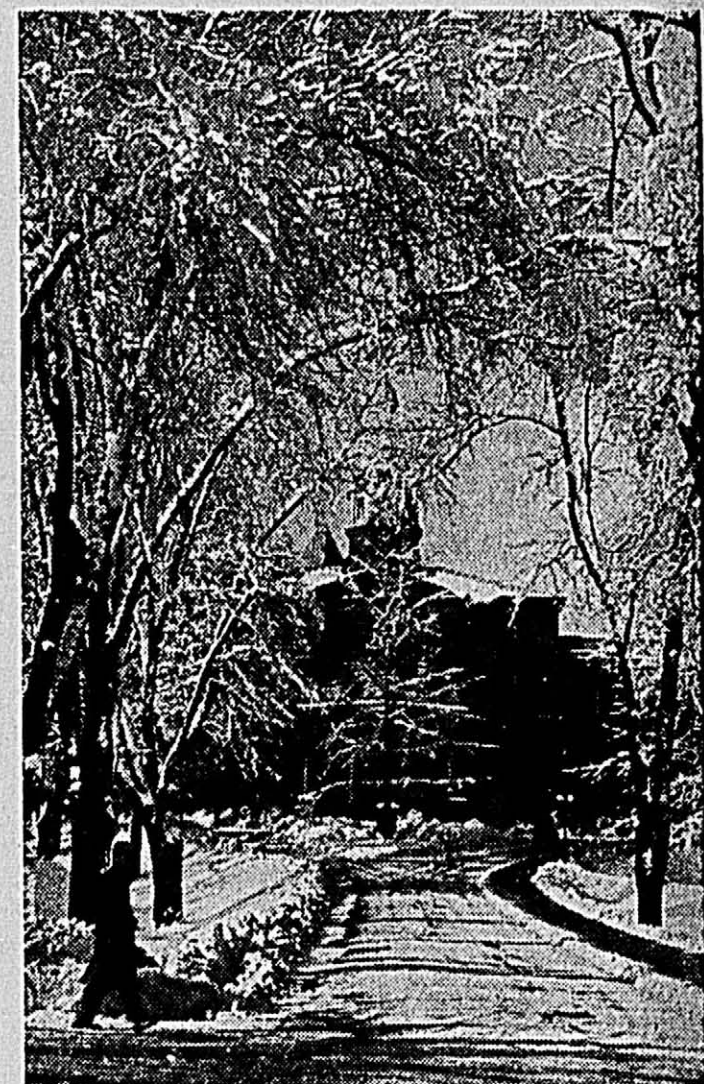

Toronto, Nov. 27.—(Special to The Daily)—The National Federation of Canadian University Students made history here today with its announcement that enough University student councils have agreed to raise fees to the national organization to an extent which will make possible the establishment of a permanent office.

With such an office, NFCUS hopes to be able to expand local operations to an extent never before possible.

All but two of the 19 member Universities have agreed to the raise — from six to twenty cents per student — the national executive reported as its meeting today.

This brings to a successful close the campaign which has been waged on Canadian camps since this September's national conference. It was decided at the Conference that if NFCUS was to operate meaningfully on a national basis it would have to establish a permanent office. McGill was the first University to ratify the fee raise.

Of the two who have not approved the raise, the University of British Columbia has agreed to pay 12 cents already but there is every chance that the full raise will be approved in view of the student council surplus last year. The University of Manitoba student council has approved the raise in principle and is attempting to juggle their budget to permit following the example of other universities.

Living up to tradition, The Daily is celebrating the first big snowfall here at McGill. This picture greeted students on the morning of Nov. 22, 1949, when the campus was blanketed with a soft billowy whiteness. This cut-line was written at 2 p.m. yesterday and we hope and pray that the snow stays for today!

Hip, Hop to Honour Hayseed Hop Friday

Hip and Hop the honorary patron and patroness of the Hayseed Hop, made their debut yesterday at the Union during lunch hours. Hip, a white, pink-eyed rabbit was garbed in formal Hayseed attire which included blue jeans and red ribbon. Hop, a brown-eyed brunette rabbit, clad in a colourful skirt.

Hockey Seats Available At Union

The McGill Hockey fan's lot will be a happier one this season as a result of an announcement by the Athletics department last night. Through the efforts of Mrs. Hendrie and the cooperation of the Red Wings Society under Martha Wickendon, students tickets will be sold on the Thursday and Friday before the Intercollegiate games in the Union. They will be sold from twelve noon to 2:00 p.m., on each of these days on presentation of Student's Athletics Coupons at the time of purchase.

As it was last year, the charge for each student will be twenty-five (25) cents per student. The first game will be held this Friday night at the Forum and the added convenience over last year's system when students were forced to line up before each game, assures the Redmen of a large turnout, so get your tickets early, on sale Thursday and Friday at the Union from twelve to 2:00 p.m.

Hop, when asked what was going to take place at the dance announced that prizes would be given for the hickiest costume. She also said that she had intentions of entering the competition. This does not mean that everyone has to wear at the Union during lunch hour a costume though costumes would add to the atmosphere.

The two celebrities said that there would be round dancing to the tune of the Keynotes featuring soloist Martha McDutcheon interspersed with lively square dances. The M.O.C.'s own orchestra consisting of piano, guitar, and violin players will provide Hill-billy music while Lloyd Brown will do the calling.

Sir George Drama Guild To Produce "Outward Bound"

Under the direction of Jack Zolov, who was recently with the Canadian Art Theatre, "Outward Bound" is entirely produced by students. Zolov also worked with Miss Haultrecht last year in experimental plays at McGill which were televised.

Curtain time for the latest Georgian effort is 8:30 p.m. It will take place in Budge Hall, the auditorium of the Central Y.M.C.A.

"Outward Bound", a comedy by the English playwright Sufon Vane, will be presented at Sir George Williams College, December 7 and 8, 1950.

The play deals with life after death, suicide, the road to heaven and hell, and a return to life. In the leading roles are veterans of the amateur stage, Muriel Haultrecht and Sid Cutler. Miss Haultrecht starred in last year's drama guild production at Sir George, "Out of the Frying Pan", by Frances Swann, and was formerly with the Children's Theatre, Brae Manor Summer Theatre, and in various High School and College Plays.

The male lead, Sid Cutler co-starred with Miss Haultrecht in "Out of the Frying Pan" and also played the lead in "A Date with Judy".

IUDL Conference Plans Topic for Debate Series

By SELMA SKOLL

Last Saturday morning in the Board Room of the Union, Doug Cohen, President of the Inter-University Debating League, met with delegates of nine colleges to make the final arrangements for the forthcoming series of IUDL debates in February. The topic that was chosen for the debates was "Resolved that Western German rearmament be allowed and encouraged by the Atlantic Pact Nations." The conference discussed a means of achieving a closer co-operation between the members of the league. Also discussed were plans for a national debating finals. Doug Cohen told the Daily last night that there will be tryouts early next term for all students interested in debating for the IUDL.

This year McGill is President of the IUDL. On Friday night a Banquet was held in the Union to welcome the representatives attending the conference. Present at the Banquet to greet the delegates were Jim Cartier, President of the Union, John Ballon, Vice-President of the Union, John Scott, Editor in Chief of the Daily, Isadore Rosenfeld, Mel Rothman and Hank Neward, members of the Debating Society. Three other people that were present at the affair were Dennis Lazure, President of the U. of M.,

Fate of Daily To Be Topic of A&S Debate

"Resolved that The McGill Daily be abolished"—will be the subject of an Arts and Science debate to be held today at 1 p.m. in the Union. Speaking for the affirmative, will be Greg Friend and Jim Ross. The Daily's existence will be defended by Eric deBellaguer and Tim Porteous, this year's winner of the Bovey Shield for debating. The debate is to be judged by Gerald F. Charness. This should be an extremely interesting debate when we consider the innumerable arguments that can be brought forth, and the high calibre of the participating debaters," said Nick Vlahos, president of the A. and S. Debating Society.

Redmen Boast Mighty Offensive Record But Lacked Punch

By BOB BORNSTEIN

Complete football statistics on the 1950 McGill team, just released, confirm the suspicion that the Redmen boasted a mighty offensive record this fall, but also demonstrates that it was inability to come through when it counted that cost the Redmen many a point.

The latter statement stems from the fact that on the basis of yardage gained all season, the Redmen

Twin Bill At Gym Opens MBL Season

The first regular doubleheader of the MBL season will take place in the Sir Arthur Currie gymnasium on Wednesday night. The two colleges entered in the league will play against each other in the first game, these two colleges being, of course, Sir George Williams and McGill.

This will be the Georgian's second game in MBL play and they are now in last place having lost a close, sloppy and rough game to Windsor's last Saturday night. As the standings now are, Windsor are in top place with two wins and no defeats, McGill, Y.M.H.A., are in second place with no wins and no defeats while the Georgians and Doyle Motors are in last place.

The Georgians in pre-season had won three games while losing one and now they will have to play another game with the Y.M.H.A. Blues in order to decide who will be the champions of this year's Golden Ball Tournament. In these three games the crew from Sir George defeated Doyle Motors, who are still in the league, and Quebec Academy and Palestre Nationale. The latter two teams have dropped out of the senior league and are now playing in the intermediate division.

This Georgian team is made up of a mixture of graduates of that college and of students now attending it. The leading man on the team is Mickey McFall formerly with the Grenadier Guards. The other graduate is Stan Kist, who played with the championship intermediate Georgian team of two years ago. The other players in the team are now all attending Sir George and they include lackadaisical Herb Shannon, 6'3" Kelt Wray, Stertch Edwards, Donny Goldberg, Pinky Frost, Thompson and Hugh Walde.

Commerce, Daily Meds, Plumbers All Victorious

Action was the order of the evening as eleven thrilling basketball contests were run off at the Currie Gym last night.

The Daily gained a hard fought 23-16 victory over Music as Kopin led the winners with six points. Slivinski was high man for the losers with nine markers. Dawson Engineers trounced Law by a lopsided 51-17 count. Perrault shone for the losers as Resznetnik amassed 18 points for the Engineers.

In the second round of play Godel led the Pathners to a 21-11 triumph over Buddies, scoring twelve points. It looked for a while to be a hockey game with the half-time score 5-4. On the other court Commerce Juniors edged Divinity 38-2 as McCleod ran wild and piled up a total of eighteen points. The other game between Med Seniors and Phys Ed Seniors went two overtime periods before the Phys Ed squad eked out 30-26 verdict. These two teams met last year for the championship.

Awards Made at Annual McGill Football Dinner

Pete Robinson, McGill's dashing half-back capped his story-book rise to football fame last night when he was awarded the Fred Wigle Memorial Trophy. His award highlighted the fourth annual football banquet given the McGill teams by Lt. Col. St. Clair Holland, honorary president of the McGill Football club.

Thus Pixie Pete became the fifth man to win the Trophy donated after the last war by a group of friends of the late great McGill football player Fred Wigle. The trophy is presented to the McGill player deemed by his team mates to be the "most sportsman-like and most valuable to his team."

Rocky Robillard, now assistant to Head Coach Vic Obeck was the award winner last year. Other names inscribed on it include those of Tommy Bridel, Johnny Porter and Murray Hayes.

Cec Findlay, the Indian's touchdown scoring fullback received the Clare Mussen Trophy, for being "the most valuable player on the intermediate team." This trophy was first presented last year and Jeff Crain was the first man to win it.

Marv Melrowitz, winner of the trophy in its inaugural year, 1950, made the presentation.

The Lobs Obeck Trophy for the "most improved player" on the McGill team went to Dawson Tilley, Tilley, a West Hill product more than fulfilled expectations. After a slow start, he rapidly began establishing himself as a top rate line-bucker.

That gave full backs a definite corner on the evening's trophies. Out of the four presented in the (Continued on Page 4)

Boy, Girl Competition Rejected by MWSAA

Intercollegiate Basketball, Badminton Meets February; Notice Board Improved

RHODA HARRIS

Another regular meeting of the McGill Women's Student Athletic Association was held on Monday, November 27 in the MWSAA room at RVC.

The condition of the athletic notice board was again brought up for discussion. New materials have been purchased to make it more attractive to students, and to further this purpose, president Mary Richardson suggested that there be a committee whose job it would be to devise new ways of keeping the board informative and interesting. Mary appointed Lyn Rutherford as chairman of this committee.

Formal congratulations were extended to the intercollegiate swimming team, and especially to its coach and manager, Miss Bean and Audrey Wipper, respectively. Audrey related the happenings of the week-end in Kingston, and added that the competition was made all the more exciting, because the decision was so close that it could not be determined until the very last minute.

The tentative date for the intercollegiate basketball competition has been set for the second week-end in February, and that of badminton for the following weekend.

Intramural representative Margaret Racy announced that the men's manager had contacted her about competition between the boys and girls in their respective sports. Miss Bean replied that it is the policy of the Women's Athletics Board not to encourage competition between the men and women students, firstly because there would actually be no competition at all, secondly that the difference in the rules between the boys' and girls' games would be difficult to modify, and thirdly, that the danger of injury would be a grave problem. It was suggested that the challenge could be on a social basis—for example, a splash party, or mixed badminton, which, by the way, is already scheduled. Miss Bean concluded by reminding the council that it is an athletic body, and that there is already a recreational association to look after such activities.

Plans for an evening meeting of the council were discussed, and the date was set for Tuesday, December 12 at 8 p.m. at RVC. It is hoped that much more will be accomplished at this meeting than at the short noon hour ones.

Ann Henry made a motion to the effect that members of the ski club other than the intercollegiate team be allowed to participate in a dual meet with Middlebury College in January. The motion was passed by the Council and will now go to the Women's Athletics Board for final approval.

McGill is proud of her versatility, and of her standards set in the field of engineering. There is one field she has overlooked which would receive applications from all over the world, and that is Sanitary Engineering. We have several laboratories designed especially for that subject, commonly called lecture rooms. At 2:00 o'clock when the cattle have been fed and their waste is in evidence, the Common Room amongst others, would set the heart of a Garbage Scow Skipper all aflutter. Possibly a course on 'Refuse Bins, and Their Importance in Society' could also be given to the advantage of various Do-hemians. At times one is led to believe that if the tables were any lower, certain elements would have their feet in their lunch. Please Keep Your Building Clean!

Today's movies, sponsored by the Miners and Mels, will be a surprise to all as even the projectionist doesn't know what they will be about.

Wednesday the Film Committee will show 'No Man Is An Island.' This movie is really A-1 and is in colour. Refuse bins for the disposal of lunch wrappings will be on display so Please Keep Your Building Clean!

Thursday the Theologists will knit wits with the Engineering debaters in an interfaculty competition. The subject will be 'Resolved that socialism is a better form of government than capitalism.' This should be a red hot issue, so why not turn out at 1:00 and support our team. The debate will take place in the union.

Also on Thursday, and in room 33, Mr. Chandler of Bepec will give a talk on rectifiers. This talk should prove interesting to all, especially the electricals.

Next Monday December 4, an interesting talk has been planned for your enjoyment. Mr. Bill MacDougall, who was recently in India as Canadian Delegate to the International Students Service, will speak on that country and South East Asia, and the I.S.S. there. course of the evening, two went to the powerboys. Findlay and Tilley.

That didn't complete the presentations for the evening. "Sainty" Holland presented every member of both the senior and the intermediate teams as well as their respective managerial staffs with beautiful travelling alarm clocks. The coaches also received gifts and the team replied in kind to Mr. Holland.

Dr. F. Cyril James, principal of the University was the guest speaker. He pointed out that while he was as disappointed as the members of the team that they did not win the championship, this didn't negate the season. In spite of it, he added this was still one of McGill's greatest football years. He also was extremely proud of the fact that the team took its defeats in a sportsmanlike manner.

Brig. Percy de Lalanne, President of the McGill Graduates Society, Bax O'Mera sports editor of the Montreal Star, Doug Smith, CFCE sports announcer and Mr. Holland added their appreciations of the team's efforts.

opportunity for Milton or Shakespeare. Therefore, dreading the worst, I ploughed into Forster's "Passage to India." The first chapter fulfilled all expectations—nothing happened. Then gradually the story began to move and capture my interest. How glad I was that I had easily cleared the hurdle of the first chapter! Interesting character after interesting character paraded onto the pages of the book—Dr. Azziz, Miss Quested, Mrs. Moore, and Ronny. The seething sub-continent of India came to life with all its complexities, hatreds, and intrigues. A new door was opened on this mysterious land and many puzzling characteristics of the Orientals exposed.

There is still quite a galaxy of books confronting me. May they be as interesting as the first two.

Italian too."

I breathed a sigh of relief. At the next table was my friend Duffy who is a wizard in Italian. I motioned him to come over, and told him what our trouble was. Straightaway he looked the German in the eye and said, "Parla Eila in Italiano?"

"Si."

Then slowly a brick red color ran up Duffy's neck, through his ears and into his hair.

"Oh my gosh!" He started to bite his fingernails and then with a wild gleam in his eye, spouted, "Preferisco il caffè."

"Si?" His eyebrow raised as he looked at the cup in front of him. "Uno, due, tre. Ho fame!"

With this last rejoinder the German got up as though to run for the door. Then he straightened himself and fixing Fluff with a cold stare, he said with a crisp Oxford accent "I say, your friends are really very interesting. It's too bad they don't have a course in English conversation here. Well, Cheerio! I must be off to give a Psychology lecture."

operatively with non-Communist student unions. They also realized that the IUS relief program, particularly in Asia, would do much to win for the Soviet bloc of countries the support of University communities in poverty-stricken areas.

As a result, the Western leaders decided that they should hold a meeting at which they would all see what the others were prepared to do in the field of relief.

It is not expected that a new relief organization will be established, but that much of the relief funds will be channelled through the International Student Service.

The third NFCUS rep to Stockholm will be Art Mauro, of the University of Manitoba, who is president of NFCUS.

Newfoundland Bishop To Speak at Service

The Rt. Rev. Selwyn Abraham, Bishop of Newfoundland, will be the guest speaker at the regular Faculty of Divinity Chapel service in the Divinity Hall Chapel at 9:40 this morning.

Bishop Abraham has been in Montreal over the weekend after attending last week's sessions of the General Synod in Toronto.

Hence the demoralization, depressing studies of priceless cultural value, to make room for pass-ports to a job.

Dr. Alexander spoke of the tendency in American Universities to make standard low enough to attract and keep students.

He deplored the mania for a large enrolment at no matter what sacrifice of real academic values, and the sinking of great sums of money in ostentatious buildings (often to perpetuate some donor's name) rather than promotion of teaching capacity.

He continued that he did not feel that low salaries were the main deterrent which kept properly qualified men and women from entering the Faculties of the University of California, which naturally he knows best: there was no ground there for that particular complaint.

Dr. Alexander spoke very severely about recent invasions of what he termed "Academic Freedom". The imposition of intellectual fetters, the turning of a University teacher into the agent of propaganda satisfactory to a Board of Governors, was in his view most likely to divert to other pursuits the very men a University most needs.

'51 Calendars Peddled in Residences

A new twist to an old racket came to light last night when it was reported that 1951 calendars were peddled in a McGill residence to raise money for "war veterans."

Ken Fenton, second year divinity student who is a resident in the United Theological College, said a man attempted to sell the calendars, which did not bear the name of any organization, to UTC students for thirty-five cents.

When Fenton pressed him for details of the beneficiaries, the man replied that the money would go to "student vets of the last war." After Fenton, who was overseas with the RCAF, pointed out there was no veterans organization on the campus, the man left the building without attempting to make further sales.

It was learned that one student had bought two of the calendars for thirty-five cents apiece, and that another had bought one for fifty cents.

A third UTC resident purchased one calendar for twenty-five cents from a woman who was selling them on University in front of the residence.
